DETAILED ACTION

This communication is responsive to RCE filed 12/19/2005. Claims 12, 15-19, 22-26, 29 & 30 are pending for the examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 12, 15-19, 22-26, 29 & 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chartier (4,938,567) in view of Irwin, Jr. et al (6,491,215).

Regarding claims 19, 22 & 23, Chartier discloses a matrix structure of a display, comprising:

a substrate (1); and a plurality of transistors (T11, T12, T13) arranged in a matrix on the substrate, each of the transistors is disposed near an intersection of a gate line extending in a first direction and a data line extending in a second direction orthogonal to the first direction and not disposed on the gate line or data line, wherein the gate line includes:

a first main line (LG) formed in a first conductive layer; and a plurality of first branch lines (lg1) formed in a second conductive layer spaced from the first conductive layer, each of the first branch lines having a first length and being separated from an adjacent first branch line by a first distance; and the data line includes:

a second main line (CL) formed in the second conductive layer; and a plurality of second branch lines (col1, col2) formed in the first conductive layer, each of the second branch lines having a second length and being separated from each adjacent second branch line by a second distance, [figs. 1-4, and 12];

Even though Chartier lacks disclosure of wherein a first ratio of the first length to the first distance and a second ratio of the second length to the second distance are greater than approximately 2 in order to reduce the resistance of the matrix structure of the display, the main point of this limitation is about the resistance inversely proportional to the area, as Irwin, Jr. et al discloses, [col. 27, lines 1-7]. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to pick out the range 2 to 9 for the benefit of getting the resistance from the multilayer.

Regarding claim 24, Chartier discloses the matrix structure of the display further comprising a plurality of contact plugs (CX3) for connecting the first branch lines to the first main line, [fig. 12].

Regarding claim 25, Chartier discloses the matrix structure of the display further comprising a plurality of contact plugs (CX4, CX5) for connecting the second branch lines to the second main line, [fig. 12].

Claim 12 is met the discussion regarding claim 19 rejection above.

Claim 15 is met the discussion regarding claims 12 and 22 rejection above.

Claim 16 is met the discussion regarding claims 12 and 23 rejection above.

Claim 17 is met the discussion regarding claims 12 and 24 rejection above.

Application/Control Number: 10/687,759

Art Unit: 2871

Claim 18 is met the discussion regarding claims 12 and 25 rejection above.

Claim 26 is met the discussion regarding to claim 19 rejection above except having an additional limitation, which is forming an insulating layer on the patterned first conductive layer, [fig. 5 – element 2].

Claim 29 is met the discussion regarding claims 26 and 22 rejection above.

Claim 30 is met the discussion regarding claims 26 and 23 rejection above.
